WORLD AGRICULTURAL SUPPLY AND DEMAND
ESTIMATES 02/09/21

WHEAT: The supply and demand outlook for 2020/21 U.S. wheat is largely unchanged this month but there are offsetting by -class changes to exports, imports, and food use. Hard Red Spring (HRS) and White exports are raised on stronger than expected sales and shipments, particularly to China. Conversely, Hard Red Winter (HRW) exports are reduced on a continued slow pace. Durum imports are raised on the pace to date while HRS is lowered. Durum and HRS food use are raised while HRW and Soft Red Winter are lowered. These changes are mainly based on the NASS Flour Millings Products report and Census trade data. The season-average farm price is raised $0.15 per bushel to $5.00 based on NASS prices reported to date and expectations for futures and cash prices for the remainder of the marketing year.

COARSE GRAINS: This month's 2020/21 U.S. corn outlook is for higher exports and lower ending stocks. Exports are raised 50 million bushels, reflecting historically large corn purchases by China. With no other use changes, U.S. corn ending stocks are lowered 50 million bushels from last month. The season-average corn price received by producers is raised 10 cents to $4.30 per bushel.

OILSEEDS: This month's 2020/21 U.S. soybean outlook is for increased exports and lower ending stocks. Soybean exports are projected at 2.25 billion bushels, up 20 million from last month reflecting record marketing-year exports through January and a slow start to Brazil's export season resulting from harvest delays. With crush unchanged, soybean ending stocks are reduced 20 million bushels to 120 million. If realized, soybean ending stocks would be down 77 percent from 2019/20, and the lowest since 2013/14. The U.S. season-average soybean price for 2020/21 is forecast at $11.15 per bushel, unchanged from last month. The soybean meal price is forecast at $400.00 per short ton, up 10 dollars. The soybean oil price forecast is raised 1.5 cents to 40.0 cents per pound.

Missouri Weekly Cattle Auction Summary 02/08/21

Receipts: 9,691 Week ago: 30,228 Year ago: 24,225

Compared to last week, feeders sold uneven with most of the mid-weight cattle selling within 2.00 on either side of even. Markets were highly affected by weather this week with many barns all out cancelling and those that had sales had very light offerings. The coldest weather of the year so far quickly froze up mud and about everything else. Snow, wind and record setting temperatures over the weekend made caring for livestock a difficult job. According to weather service this is the longest continuous cold streak of weather since 1983 and on track to flirt with the record set in 1936. Many sales have already cancelled into this week as well, due to poor travel conditions and dangerous wind chills. Boxed beef cut-outs were mixed for the week, choice closed at 232.37, down 2.21 and select 220.93, up 0.14 from the previous week. Feedlots sales as of the last report on Friday afternoon showed negotiated volume right at 73K head and its possible some took place after hours as well. Live sales were reported mostly 113.00-115.00 and dressed sales mostly at 180.00 although some higher late sales will likely pull the average just over 180.00. The Missouri Stocker Formula consists of 2015 head, again highly affected by weather, with a weighted average weight of 551.93 and a price value of 155.81, down 1.35 from the previous week.
